One Man Killed and Three Injured in C. & O. Wreck

HEAVY FOG RESPONSIBLE FOR COLLISION AT PAINTSVILLE LAST SATURDAY.

A heavy fog was responsible for a wreck which occurred near the C. & O. depot at Paintsville last Saturday morning at 6 o'clock, when freight engine No. 528, in charge of Engineer Walter Walker, and passenger engine No. 323, in charge of Engineer Wm. Artur, collided, and in which Shade Trotter, aged 25, married, of Lexington, was killed, and S. H. Eggleston, brakeman, and extra conductor, Richard Gillespie, conductor, and J. W. Lee, brakeman, Ashland, were injured.

First aid was rendered by Dr. Evans, of Van Lear, and Dr. David Osborne, of Whitesburg, and the injured men were placed on No. 37, the morning train from Pikeville, and Dr. G. W. Wooten, C. & O. surgeon at Louisa, was called by Supt. Allen to meet the train at this point and go with the men to the C. & O. hospital at that station.

Accompanied by Dr. Ira Wellman, Dr. Wooten boarded the train at 9:30 and took charge of the injured men, rendering such service as was possible on the way to the hospital. At the Sandy Junction the train was met by a special train to which the patients and the physicians were transferred. At Huntington the party was met by automobile ambulance and taken to the company hospital, where Dr. Enslow, hospital surgeon, assumed charge.

Eggleston and Lee were standing up on one of the engines when the collision occurred and were caught between the two and the firebox. Both men were suffering internally, and both were thought to be seriously, if not fatally, hurt. Eggleston was the worse injured of the two and after being given him before he could be examined. Late reports from them say that they are doing well and will recover.

Gillespie's nose had been split nearly in two and his whole face more or less badly cut and bruised. At the time of the collision he was breaking ice, and the force of the impact threw him violently to the floor of the car, where he was found insensible. He is now going about and doing very well.

Trotter was sitting on the rear of the tender when the two came together and was instantly killed. He was a man young fellow and had been married only two weeks.

Eggleston, was from Lexington and is 35 years old and married. It is said that his father, also a conductor, was killed in a wreck about three years ago.

Dig Channel in Ohio River From Ashland to Ironton

LOW WATER PREVENTED D. T. & I. ENTERING ASHLAND AS PLANNED.

Owing to the low stage of the Ohio river, the D. T. & I., which recently made arrangements with the A. C. & I. for the use of their trucks in Ashland and their transfer boat, was unable to make their entrance into Ashland as planned.

The service will be inaugurated, however, in a week or ten days, when a channel which is being dug in the bed from the A. C. & I. docks on a side of the river to the D. T. & I. siding near the Ironton Iron furnace the other side is complete.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES.

Union Thanksgiving services will be held on Thursday evening, Nov. 26th, beginning at 6:30 o'clock. The sermon will be preached by the Rev. A. M. Dink, pastor of the Christian Church. There will be the usual programme of song, scripture reading and prayer which will be participated in by the various ministers of this city.

We as citizens of the United States have much to be thankful for in this particular time, and therefore should not be slack in voicing our gratitude to the Father of all mercies.

A HAPPY REUNION.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hughes and children Saturday went to Huntington, where they attended a reunion of Mr. Hughes' father and his children and grand children and great grand children, four generations being represented. All the descendants of the venerable patriarch, now nearly 80 years of age, were present except Mrs. Mary Elsie Dink, of Philadelphia, and she was represented by a beautiful boy, a son by a former marriage. The children presented the father and grand side with a beautiful living cup, out of which they drank order to the health and happiness of their aged relative.

Two Appellate Judges Disqualified Under Law

NUNN AND HANNAH DECLINE TO SIT IN WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION ACT CASE.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 17.—Judges U. S. Nunn and J. B. Hannah, of the Court of Appeals, declined to sit in the workmen's compensation case, pending on the question of the constitutionality of the act, and Gov. McCreary will appoint two special judges to sit in the case.

Judge Nunn said he was interested in some floor spar mines in Western Kentucky, and Judge Hannah is stockholder in a sawmill company in Eastern Kentucky, the employees of which are affected by the workmen's compensation act. The law provides that where a judge is interested in the outcome of a case he shall not sit in it.

It is believed it will not be necessary to argue the case over again, if the attorneys in the case are satisfied to have it submitted on the briefs, as a full bench heard the oral arguments, and five of the judges, who will sit in the case, were present.

The young man had had a long siege of the fever but had become better when he sustained a relapse.

Farmers' Institute Was Held in Louisa This Week

LITTLE INTEREST SHOWN BY THE PEOPLE GENERALLY IN THIS MEETING.

The Lawrence County Farmers' Institute, was opened in the court house on last Monday morning, with the following instructors: J. T. Adair, of Millersburg, Ky.; W. H. Clayton, of Hebron, Ky.; H. B. Hendrick, of Lexington, Ky.; and Miss Ruby Buckman, of the Kentucky Experiment Station, Lexington. The forenoon was taken up in a sort of round table discussion on fruit growing, which was participated in by several. In the afternoon the attendance was largely increased, many ladies being interested listeners. The time was occupied by Mr. Hendrick, who spoke of soils, Miss Buckman, who was instructive in her talk concerning home making, and Mr. Adair, who knows much about poultry and can tell what he knows. Mr. Adair spoke again, tonight, using the stereopticon to illustrate his lecture.

On Tuesday morning Mr. Hendrick discussed soil and crops, and Mr. Cantrud, who, with Prof. Matthews, had come to look over the situation, spoke in his usual interesting way concerning fruit growing. In the afternoon Mr. Clayton spoke of fruit of various kinds. Miss Buckman discussed the subject of textile fabrics. Mr. Hendrick judged the corn, of which seven samples had been offered, and Mr. Kenley, county agent, addressed the institute. The corn shown by Jay Post was declared to be the best of the seven samples. The largest yield per acre was reported by Gola Green, of Illinois, 84 bushels.

What Mr. Kenley said in his short speech to the institute was to the point, interesting and practical, and drew more attention than the NEWS can give this week. He is doing a most excellent work for the farmers of Lawrence county and is appreciated by the progressive people of the soil. He desires the NEWS to say to the boys of the corn club that they should continue the work of selecting samples of their production and have them ready for show in the near future.

The interest shown by the people generally in the institute was not what it should have been, and the NEWS doubts if the people who should attend in large numbers will ever take the time to give much attention to what the State is trying so hard to do for them. They offer various excuses for their remissness in the matter, none of which is valid.

Silver Tea to be Held on Friday Evening, Nov. 20

PLEASANT AFFAIR ARRANGED BY THE LADIES OF THE M. E. CHURCH SOUTH.

If you have a desire for information and want to add to your stock of knowledge you will be sure to go to the home of Rev. and Mrs. B. M. Keith to-morrow (Friday) evening and learn how silver tea is made. There will be several of Louisa's best cooks present to show you the process, which you will find to be very simple, and its simplicity is surpassed only by its effectiveness. It consists merely in separating the visitor from whatever subject he may have about him and transferring it to the treasury of the M. E. Church South. After the tea is "sifted" long enough the contributors to the festivities are comforted with various and sundry conversations and contraptions. Misses will also be evoked from various threats and strains. On the whole you will find the personage a very pleasant place to visit at the time aforesaid, and your presence is cordially invited.

In God's name we wish to express our heartfelt thanks to the many good people who visited us and ministered to our wants in every way during the illness and death of our wife and mother. We pray a special blessing upon Rev. Keith and his church, and my Sunday School class taught by Prof. Kenison for their help and assistance during all the time.

G. W. Skaggs and Family.

MEETING WAS NOT HELD.

The Rev. Mr. Halecomb, who was expected to come to Louisa and conduct a revival meeting at the Baptist Church, could not obtain the consent of his church to be away so long and the meeting has been indefinitely postponed. Mr. Hamilton and his church, and the public as well, are much disappointed because of the postponement.

Samples of Kentucky Coal Requested by Mine Bureau

TESTS WILL BE MADE BY THE BUREAU OF MINES IN PITTSBURGH LABORATORIES.

Cannel City, Ky., Nov. 16.—The Bureau of Mines has requested the Kentucky Black Cannel Coal Company to send samples of cannel coal to their laboratories in Pittsburgh for experimental purposes. They are making experiments in regard to the volatile matter contained in various coals from all parts of the United States.

These investigations when completed will be issued in the form of a report and will be of great value to the mining industry in this country.

MORGAN COUNTY NEWS.

Cannel City, Nov. 15. The hunting season opens today and although it is Sunday, a number will take advantage of the first day of the open season. The prospects are good for hunting, as there are a lot of birds and rabbits in this vicinity. Small boys have been busy catching opossums but squirrels are scarce.

Several farmers and residents of Cannel City took advantage of the few cold days to kill hogs. Hogs are cheaper this year than last, selling at 6 1/2 and 7 cents a pound.

The corn crop around Cannel City is better than usual this year. A big part of the crop has been shucked and cribbed. The new corn is selling for 75 cents a bushel, although some has been sold in earload lots for 55 and 60 cents.

Although the potato crop is almost a complete failure, there is an unusually fine crop of sweet potatoes. They are very plentiful, large, sweet and cheap.

SHOT NEAR KAVANAUGH.

Estill County Oil Well Shows Up Under Test

PRODUCES 17 BARRELS IN 24 HOURS—OTHER WELLS TO BE PUMPED.

The oil well on the Hillis Bros. lease is proving right up to the predictions made when the well was completed. After the oil which had accumulated in the well over night had been pumped out, a two gallon bucket was used for a test. Several buckets were filled and timed, which proved that the well was actually producing 30 gallons an hour, which holds up a fraction over 17 barrels of 42 gallons, in 24 hours.

On the lease of the Maple Oil Co., a tank has been built and permanent pumping machinery is being installed which will soon start the operation of several wells.

Hillis Bros. have started drilling a well No. 10, which they will sink to a greater depth for what is known as a second sand, and which they estimate to strike at 650, or about 400 feet below the first sand strata where the present oil is found.—Irvine Tribune.

Death Summons Answered By Well Known Louisian

MRS. G. W. SKAGGS DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS CAUSED BY ABDOMINAL CANCER.

Mrs. G. W. Skaggs, wife of attorney G. W. Skaggs, of this city, died at her home on Lock avenue on the night of Thursday last, Nov. 12th. Interment was made in Parkerson cemetery, following appropriate services conducted at her late home by her pastor, the Rev. H. M. Keith, of the M. E. Church South.

Mrs. Skaggs had been ill for many months, suffering from abdominal cancer, a malignant type, and death came as an angel of mercy to her relief.

The following biographical sketch will interest her many relatives and friends: Elizabeth Lamira Phillips Skaggs was born in Lawrence county, Ky., on the 15th day of January, 1855; was married to Greenville W. Skaggs on the 26th day of April, 1872. They then settled down on a little farm in Johnson county, Ky., lived there about twelve years, during which time six children were born to them: three boys and three girls—Celesta Wilson Skaggs was born Feb. 8, 1873; Laura Belle was born June 25, 1874; Tilden Fonzo was born Oct. 12, 1876; Stella May was born Dec. 29, 1878; Della Virgie was born June 3, 1881; Arrado Breckenridge was born Sept. 10, 1883, and died Sept. 17, 1884, and was buried in the Skaggs family graveyard in Johnson county, Ky. Stella May Skaggs Knize died in Portsmouth, O., Oct. 4, 1912, and was buried in the Green-lawn cemetery there.

Elizabeth Lamira Skaggs with her husband and children moved from their farm to the town of Blaine, Ky., and lived there a few years and moved from that place to Louisa, Ky., on the 17th day of December, 1887, and lived there with her family until her death, which was on the 12th day of November, 1914. She leaves a husband and four children surviving her. She was a dutiful wife and mother. She died in the triumph of faith in Jesus.

FATALLY BURNED.

Miss Nellie Gaines, a nurse of Louisville, who was visiting relatives at Paintsville, was fatally burned about the face and body Friday morning by the explosion of gasoline, with which she was cleaning some clothing. She was taken to Ashland, where she died the following day.

Octogenarian Pays the Debt That All Must Pay

MR. JAMES K. RICE, AGED 84, DIES AT HIS HOME AT FALLSBURG.

On Saturday morning last at an early hour Mr. James K. Rice, aged 84 years, died at his home at Fallsburg after a long illness caused by weight of years and physical infirmity. He is survived by a widow, who is his second wife, and eleven grown children, eight sons and three daughters, all by his first wife. The funeral on Monday was very largely attended. After appropriate services conducted by Rev. R. F. Rice and H. B. Hewlett, the body was carried to its last earthly resting place, a beautiful spot near the Fallsburg-Fallers road, about midway between the two places, where it was interred.

James K. Rice was a very prominent character in Lawrence county and in its history. There are but few men of middle or mature age in the county who do not know him personally or by reputation. His name was a synonym of honesty and hospitality. While it was not until a few years ago that he became a landed proprietor he was, in the vernacular of this section, a "rich liver," that is, he always had plenty and dispensed his hospitality with a generous hand. He was genial and kindly in manner, liked by everybody who enjoyed his acquaintance.

"Uncle Jim" was a consistent Southern Methodist, sober and industrious, a man of intelligence, a good husband and father, upright citizen and good neighbor. His memory will long be cherished.

Louisa Coal Co. v. Hammond's Adm. Lawrence; petition for rehearing by appellee with notice in each case filed and submitted.

NOT MANY SALES MADE.

There was but little done in the way of selling live stock in this city on Monday last. The previous pleasant weather had suddenly turned very cold, with a hard wind blowing, and this may have chilled the interest of those who otherwise might have been traders. The streets were full of horsemen, who showed off the various galls of their high and low steppers and hunted for bargaining, but this was about all.

CARD OF THANKS.

Through the columns of the Big Sandy News we wish to extend our thanks to our many friends who so kindly ministered unto us during the illness and death of our loving husband and father, John Queen. The kindness shown us during the hours of our deepest sorrow and bereavement will never be forgotten. May the blessings of God rest upon you all.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Vaughan, of Catlettsburg, are rejoicing over the arrival of a nine pound son, born Saturday morning. This is the fourth son to this household, and baby Joe French is being given a great reception.—Ashland Independent.

ROWAN IS WIDE OPEN.

The stock law was defeated in Rowan county, every precinct in the county casting a majority against it. The old law can now safely be left on the highway with no one to molest her or make her owner afraid.

Judge Pryor, Former Justice of Appellate Court, is 'Dead'

PASSES AWAY AT HIS HOME IN NEW CASTLE AT THE AGE OF 89 YEARS.

Surrounded by members of his family, Judge William Samuel Pryor, for twenty-five years a member of the Kentucky Court of Appeals, part of which time he served as Chief Justice, died Monday morning near New Castle, Henry county, within sight of the home in which he was born eighty-nine years ago. He was considered one of the nation's most brilliant jurists while at the heights of his career, and was one of the best known men in Kentucky.

Judge Pryor's death was due to infirmities incident to age. His decline during the last few months was rapid. Up to within a week ago he kept abreast of the times through the newspapers.

THE STORY OF FIRING ON UNITED STATES SHIP.

London, Nov. 18.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Athens says "A launch from the United States cruiser Tennessee which was entering the Gulf of Smyrna to arrange for the cruiser to come into Smyrna harbor was fired upon by the forts and compelled to return to the Tennessee."

"The commander of the Tennessee, Capt. B. C. Decker, informed the 'Vall' that he had orders from his government to enter the harbor of Smyrna and had decided to do so."

It is believed here that, since Capt. Decker has general orders from the Washington government to protect Americans in Turkey, he must have heard of impending peril for his countrymen in Smyrna, or, perhaps of actual outrages already committed.

There are numerous American missions in this district on the Taurus-Asiatic coast, with Smyrna as the center, and it is possible that some of these have been molested by Mohammedan zealots.

Some diplomats here predict serious complications with the United States, while they believe the firing on the launch was an unfortunate mistake on the part of the Turks, for which unple apologies will be forthcoming.

FIRE IN CATLETTSBURG.

A cottage on West Main street owned by Miss Rebecca Wellman, and occupied by a family by the name of Barnell, was totally destroyed by fire Tuesday. Before the arrival of the fire company the flames had gained considerable headway. All the household furniture was burned. An insurance was carried on the cottage.—Independent.

BROKE HIS SHOULDER.

On Saturday last Cox Carter, of Ellettsburg, fell into a saw pit at Dave Berry's on Rich Creek, and broke his right shoulder. This is a bad accident for Mr. Carter, one which will lay him up for some time.

ENTERTAINED WITH ROOK.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. D. C. Spencer entertained very handsomely with Rook in honor of her visitor, Mrs. P. L. Keith. There were twelve guests, who, at the end of the games, were served with a delicious salad course.

THE SEASON IS OPEN.

The open season for game opened Monday very pleasantly for the hunter but decidedly uncomfortably for the hunter. Whistling, hollering and furring about got it right and left and was better by many score than they were Sunday.

FROM THE WEST.

Kidama, Wash., Nov. 11. As the smoke of the hard-fought battle option battle pulled off in Washington and Oregon on Nov. 3rd is justly cleared away, and as I am seated now in the red tin of the dawn light, I would like to say to my few surviving friends in Lawrence county that we have gained a glorious victory greatly to the credit of woman suffrage in this state.
Washington and Oregon voted for the exemption of saloons and devoted to the sale of alcoholic beverages in the future by a majority in Washington of 15,000 and in Oregon of 25,000 votes and we are happy and why not?
With my mind's eye I see that patriot George Washington looking down from his celestial home at the boys and girls in the great hall and rising state for whom it was named and see his redeemed soul rejoice to know that they are free from the gods of rum and mortality.
I would further like to say that the people of this state are enjoying the fruits of a bumper crop of most every thing raised in this climate and wheat is selling at top prices and we have a record breaking crop of it, and fruit is giving away. I am sorry to say the hundred trade is badly affected by the keep from writing a few lines from barrel and a great many of the mills are not running and the men are ab-

STANDARD, W. VA.

I have lately become a subscriber to the NEWS and seeing so many good letters from so many places of my interest home on Big Sandy, I could not keep from writing a few lines from this place. Standard is a mining town of about three or four hundred inhabitants, and is operated by the Standard Sulphur and Gas Coal Co., Mr. Walter
Wood, general manager, and Mr. Gordon Wood, superintendent. Ed Foster is town foreman.
We have a very nice Baptist Church here. It has been recently revived to some extent by Rev. Roscoe Murray, of Ceredia. The church has lately called for their pastor for this year, Rev. J. B.
Morris, of Nickols. The church is well pleased with their new pastor.
We also have a good Sunday School with attendance of about 200. Rev.
Alfred Boyd is superintendent, Ed Foster, assist. supt., B. L. Rouse, sec. and treas. We have offered to induce ment to the children of the Sunday School to the one who recites the most Scripture verses each Sunday from now until Christmas will get an extra present on the Christmas tree.

INDIGESTION ENDED, STOMACH FEELS FINE

"Pape's Diapepsin" fixes sour, gassy, upset stomachs in five minutes.

Sour, gassy, upset stomach, indigestion, heartburn, dyspepsia; when the food you eat ferments into gases and stomach lumps; your head aches and you feel sick and miserable, that's when you realize the magic in Pape's Diapepsin. It makes all stomach misery vanish in five minutes.
If your stomach is in a continuous revolt—if you can't get it regulated phase, for your sake, try Pape's Diapepsin. It's so needless to have a bad stomach make your next meal a favorite food meal, then take a little Diapepsin. There will not be any distress eat without fear. It's because Pape's Diapepsin "really does" regulate weak, out-of-order stomachs that gives it its millions of sales annually.
Get a large fifty-cent box of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. It is the quickest, surest stomach relief and cure known. It acts almost like magic.
It is a scientific, harmless and pleasant stomach preparation which truly belongs in every home.

I LOVE BUT ONE.

IN MEMORY.

One of the greatest griefs our hearts
ever felt and one of the saddest scenes our eyes ever beheld was witnessed on Nov. 10, 1914, by the death of the relatives and friends of little Alta Wright, as the death angel silently covered her beautiful form, and her eyes gently closed, never to open again on earth.
She was four years, two months and eighteen days old—a bright, sweet and loving child. She won the love and admiration of all, by her sweet ways and prattling tongue. She was always kind and always greeted those whom she knew with a smile and some sweet little words.
How sad are our hearts. But even now, since she can no longer greet us here with her sweet smiles and loving words, she is still smiling more sweetly in Paradise. She no longer knows the pains of life, but is singing sweet songs around God's bright throne.
She was a patient little sufferer, and for many hours rested between life and death, but alas! her sorrow was over now. Never was she heard to murmur but bore her pains in our Great Redeemer on Calvary's tree.
Dear father and mother, be of good cheer. Although the sorrows of life are many you have a little angel in Heaven, beckoning you to be faithful a few more days, then when the darker side of life is past and you sweep through the pearly gates you can clasp the hand of your dear baby, never to part with her.

She is greatly missed and will be in the days to come by all who knew her.
There is a vacancy in your hearts that never can be filled, and you would not call your dear child from her Heavenly resting place to this wicked and sinnered world if you could. But you cannot; she has gone from us; and parting was sad; twice hard to part with her, but the meeting will be sure and blissful at Jesus' feet.
Dear parents, God is with your darling in Heaven and with you here. So you will never be far apart. Do not weep, beloved ones, but trust in God,
for all is well.
Sleep on, sweet Alta, sleep;
You've crossed the chilly tide;
Safely nestled in your Savior's arms till over on the other side.

A CHILD'S LAXATIVE IS "SYRUP OF FIGS"

Made from fruit—Can't harm tender stomach, liver and bowels.

When your child suffers from a cold
don't wait, give the little stomach, liver and bowels a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When croup, peev-ishness, if breath is hot, stomach sour, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child
again.
If your child coughs, snuffles and has caught cold or is feverish or has a sore throat give a good dose of "California Syrup of Figs," to evacuate the bowels no difference what other treatment is given.
Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this "Fruit Laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given baby saves a sick child to-morrow.

Garden, W. Va. She departed this life
Nov. 10, 1914, aged 74 years and 6 months. She was converted about 45 years ago and lived a consistent Christian until the day of her death.
She was a member of the Freeville Baptist Church. She leaves six children—three boys and three girls—and several grand children and relatives and friends to mourn her death. Her funeral was preached as she requested at her old home on Meads Branch by Revs. G. V. Pack and A. H. Miller, besides her husband in the Lige Judd graveyard.
A FRIEND.

10 CENT "CASCA" S OUR LAXATIVE

For sick headache, sour stomach, sluggish liver and bowels.

Get a 10-cent box.
Put aside—just once—the Salts, Pills, Castor Oil or Purgative Waters which merely force a passage through the bowels, but do not thoroughly cleanse, freshen and purify those whenever upon the liver and stomach.
Keep your "sluggish" pure and fresh with Cascara, which thoroughly cleanses the stomach, removes the undigested, sour food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.
A Cascara tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work fast—only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascara now and then and never have headache, biliousness, sour fads, indigestion, sour stomach or constipated bowels. Cascara belongs in every household. Children just love to take them.

On a referendum vote Oregon retains capital punishment by two votes.

That Carranza-Villa convention was well timed. If the NEWS is right it is Spanish Agnoscitehentes means "hot water."

Congressman W. J. Fields was re-elected on November 2nd by the handsome majority of 331. He ran right along with Beckham and about 500 votes ahead of Camden.

The States which went Democratic would have given an electoral majority of 47 for the Democratic ticket if it had been Presidential election. Not much in this fact for Republicans to crow over.

If exercise had anything to do with it most farmers would live to be a thousand years old.—Elizabethtown News.

You make a mistake in confounding hard work with exercise. Most farmers take very little of the latter. Their "exercise" is labor, drudgery of the very worst sort.

The new currency and financial system given to the United States by the Wilson administration was put into effect last Monday in each of the twelve districts into which the country has been divided. For fifty years the United States has operated under a most inefficient and obstructive system. Money panics were comparatively frequent and very destructive. Banks and the public lived in dread of these panics. They could be started by two or three men in New York, the center of the money power. Every bank was compelled to stand absolutely upon its own resources and when a scare was started in the country every bank stopped loaning and began collecting for fear it would get caught short. This alone was sufficient to complete the work of stopping business.

It is all different now. The government has brought every National bank into one great body of twelve parts, and will buy a large portion of the good notes held by any of these banks at any time the banks may need to convert them into cash. The public now knows that banks can and will for some of the reasons that formerly caused them to close, thus increasing confidence. Less money is held in reserves than under the old law.

The new system will start conservatively and a few months will be required in which to get all of its powers into good working order.

VILLE.
The articles of articles in Kentucky and in the Evening Post today, the contribution coming from Mrs. Margaret S. Graham, and including an interesting communication from Mr. Chilton, the warden of the Eddyville penitentiary. Mr. Chilton describes the workings of the school established at Eddyville. Over five hundred convicts have in the past two years been taught to read in this prison; a convincing proof of the fact that the percentage of illiteracy among prisoners is large. The teachers have been, as a rule, fellow prisoners of the pupils, for, unfortunately, there is in every penitentiary, along with those whose opportunities in life have been small, other men who have abused those advantages and opportunities, which other men might have made much of. It is a mistake to believe that, no matter how beneficial to the individual or the community may be and is the spread of education, that education alone will make bad men good, or prevent bad or weak men from doing things they should not do. Mr. Chilton's summary of the advantages of the school in the Eddyville penitentiary is interesting and instructive. "It gives," says Mr. Chilton, "useful employment to idle or ill-employed minds. It awakens a sense of dormant capacities in the heart of the man who has had no high ideal, an ambition to be something." In addition to other advantages the power to read "furnishes diversion to the prisoners."
This last statement appears to the Evening Post one of the strongest of the many arguments for striving to teach men and women of advancing years to read and write. That the community, as a whole, increases in strength as illiteracy disappears is certain, that the chances for better schools for the children are materially improved as illiteracy declines among the older generations is equally clear, and lastly it is hard to overestimate how great a solace, how generous a diversion is the possibility of reading to those upon whom years have laid a heavy hand. Those who can read can well understand how slowly many of their hours would pass if they could not read.
We have heard it said since this campaign against illiteracy has been begun that the important thing is to take care of the children, and so it is. But the older generations are not to be forgotten, and the educational advantages of the schoolroom lose much of their value when those advantages are unappreciated because not understood in the homes.—Louisville Post

The Country Editor's Advantage.

One of the most valuable assets a newspaper can have is a list of subscribers who read the paper year in and year out, and to whom the daily or weekly news pages are as welcome as letters from absent friends.

Country newspapers, without the facilities or the occasion to publish the news of the world in the detail in which it appears in the great city dailies, do not always appreciate the tremendous advantage they have in their close contact with their readers. The city man gets his news from papers which are published to meet the needs of thousands, and which, therefore, can give but little attention to the minor affairs of the neighborhood being impersonal in its news, and indifferent to the feelings of its individual readers. It has a far more difficult task to hold its readers than the publisher of the home paper of the small community who in sympathy and good humor records the doings of the countryside. The readers of the country paper, all at one time or another, become actors on the editor's stage. The columns are filled with news that is in itself perhaps unimportant, but is nevertheless news of real people, people whom the readers know, and toward whom they have definite attitudes of admiration, respect, distrust, envy, suspicion, confidence, sympathy or solicitude.

The country paper of standing provides in its own news columns the bond that ties it to its readers. If in addition, the editor holds the respect and esteem of the community, its influence is increased sevenfold.

The city newspaper has no space for the minor doings of the reader or his neighbors. The characters in its columns are for the most part strangers, and in a sense unreal. Along the city paper must resort to other means to place real characters before its readers. In the old days it was the personality of the great men who chose the editors' pen with which to carve a career, who gave the paper its personal touch, as when readers of the New York Tribune looked first to see what Horace had to say.

Departments of newspapers were later developed to establish this personal bond between the writer and his newspaper, and named articles on sports, religion and politics by prominent writers have been innumerable and even took the form of Side Talks With Girls and Advice to the Love Boys. It is strange inconsistency when the city press holds up to ridicule the simple neighborhood annals of the country press, while at the same time the only persons with whom its readers are on terms of the most familiarity are such hopeless characters as Matt and Jeff and the Katzenjammers.

There are few city newspapers, with all their great news-gathering facilities, which can command the loyalty of support which comes to the country paper whose editor knows his people, and whose readers know each other.—Lexington Leader.

1. The Material Evils.

(a) It will result in a great loss of life and the slaughtering of the best young manhood of Europe.

(b) It will result in a great financial loss and will lay a vast burden of taxes to be paid by the coming generations.

(c) It will result in great physical suffering.

—W. D. O'NEAL.

2. The Spiritual Evils.

(a) It will to a great extent destroy the influence in religious work among the heathen, because christian nations have resorted to the ways of barbarism, murder and death in war. It will make the heathen think that christianity is only a veneer, which, when removed, reveals the primitive man in all his savagery, and that thirteen hundred years of preaching the gospel has done these nations but little good.

(b) It is a blot on civilization and an outrage on humanity.

A WHOLE ARMFUL.

It has been intimated to me that more than a thousand indictments were found against citizens of Pike County by the recent grand jury for "vote selling." What will be done with these alleged violators of the law, of course remains for a future court and a trial jury to determine. When you look the subject square in the face you can not refrain from exclaiming,
"Shame."

The word "shame" can hardly express the contempt that high-minded, law-abiding citizens must feel over such a state of affairs as exist here in Pike County.

That there is a determination upon the part of our court officials to put a stop to this vote selling practice in Pike County, there can be no further doubt, and it is earnestly hoped that they will have the help and support of every good citizen of the county in their effort to suppress this evil practice. Pike County News.

HOW TO DETECT AND HANDLE
FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE.

Symptoms.

This disease begins with a very red and angry-looking sore between the two toes. This soon becomes ulcerated
and then incrusts with dirt.

Proceeding from the mouth follows, the lifting up the lips the mucous membrane will be found to be ulcerated in irregular lines, running often up into the nostrils.

The animal frequently smacks its lips.

There is a falling off in weight and in the amount of milk the animal gives.

Treatment.

Isolate at once the animals in which the disease appears and those that have been anywhere near them.

Establish an absolute quarantine of the farm.

Do not go near or touch the cow unless you are wearing a rubber coat, rubber boots and rubber gloves. Disinfect these as soon as you leave with a 5 per cent solution of carbolic acid.

Communicate by telegraph or telephone with the proper authorities.

If the disease is found the animal must be killed at once as well as those which have been exposed to it. The ones that have not contracted the disease may be used for food.

Everything that has been near the cow or may have been in possible source of infection must be disinfected.

Last Kentucky Crop Report of Year Issued

YIELD OF CORN TO THE ACRE
BETTER THAN IN 1913.—
PLENTY OF FEED.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 14.—The crop report for October, issued today by the Commissioner of Agriculture, J. V. Newman, shows that the tobacco crop was slightly damaged by unseasonable rains.

The report which is the last of the year, follows:

As is customary, the crop report for November is delayed for a few days, so that the farmers may get a good idea of the yield of their corn crop. This is necessary in the case of tobacco and there will be no more crop reports until May 1, 1915.

The yield of corn is estimated at twenty-five bushels per acre. This is four and one-half bushels more than last year and five and six-tenths more than 1913. The yield of less than 100 bushels per acre is estimated at 3.5 bushels per acre as against 3.0 bushels per acre last year. However, more of the corn is damaged in quality as a result of excessive rain during the early part of October. For the same reason dark tobacco is estimated to be damaged 13 per cent, with a yield of 840 pounds per acre as against 900 pounds per acre last year.

The area of wheat sown was increased over last year's sowing 27 per cent. The wheat acreage is estimated at 25 per cent, or 32 per cent and 24 per cent, there is more wheat sown than last year and there are more acres to get some of the crops. The condition of the fall crops is estimated at 31 per cent. Bluegrass is estimated at 24 per cent, alfalfa 24 per cent and clover 24 per cent.

The farmers and livestock owners are in a very good position so far as feed is concerned for the winter. There are not a few extra good quality, but it is the corn crop a very good one. However, there are always enough animals to consume the abundant crop without a great deal of risk, and conditions would be fairly good with ordinary circumstances. However, the outbreak of the foot and mouth disease in some other States, including Kentucky, has necessitated a Federal and State quarantine. The Federal authorities have quarantined against the entire State of Kentucky and it is a very serious business for our farmers and livestock owners. The State quarantine affects only two counties, viz., Taylor and Henry. The price of hay has advanced very materially. Live stock that would otherwise be shipped to the market to find the owners of the packing houses sold on the farms in a national condition. Winter will soon be here and unless the United States Government releases within the next few weeks some of the bullocks and some of the hogs without the State quarantine for immediate slaughter, a considerable loss will result.

The State authorities are much concerned in the fight to control the outbreak. No new cases have developed within the last three or four days. Farmers and livestock owners should co-operate with the county authorities in enforcing the quarantine wherever one is ordered during this dangerous period.

Mr. Adams said the unlettered people of the mountains had been illiterate, that the reason they could not read and write was because the State had never given them schools, and that they would be up pupils of the moonlight schools. She emphasized the fact that illiteracy is not restricted to the mountain regions, but is found everywhere in the State. There are 200,000 adult illiterates in Kentucky, she said. "This is a vast army, not of hopeless ignorance, but of arrested intelligence, of lost opportunity," she asserted. "It is a vast army of disappointment and despair, and that's what. God help us, we are going to wipe out before the next census."

"After stating that the Woman's Forward Movement of Kentucky asked only $20,000 to carry on the work, just one-tenth the amount another State has asked for the same propaganda," Mrs. Adams asked for women who would volunteer to sit by contribution boxes in public places and guard them, take home with them the money voluntarily deposited and report to headquarters. Several women volunteered.

A WARNING TO MANY

Some Interesting Facts About Kidney Troubles.

Few people realize to what extent their health depends upon the condition of the kidneys.

The physician in nearly all cases of serious illness, makes a chemical analysis of the patient's urine. He knows that unless the kidneys are doing their work properly, the other organs cannot readily be brought back to health and strength.

When the kidneys are neglected or abused in any way, serious results are sure to follow. According to health statistics, Bright's disease which is really an advanced form of kidney trouble, caused nearly ten thousand deaths in 1913, in the State of New York alone. Therefore, it behooves us to pay more attention to the health of these most important organs.

An ideal hereditary compound that has had remarkable success as a kidney remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy.

The mild and healing influence of this preparation, in most cases, is soon realized, according to sworn statements and verified testimony of those who have used the remedy.

If you feel that your kidneys require attention and wish a simple bottle, write to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y. Mention this paper, enclose ten cents and they will gladly forward it to you by Parcel Post.

Swamp-Root is sold by every druggist in bottles of two sizes, 50c and $1.00.

ILLITERACY IN KENTUCKY
AND IN NEW YORK CITY.

At the big illiteracy meeting held in Louisville this week Mrs. Adams, a noted friend of our mountain people, made some interesting remarks. We quote from the "Courier-Journal":

"Last May Mrs. Adams attended a meeting in an Eastern city and heard the head member from Tennessee say that about the wonderful work of moonlight schools in that State, other speakers complimented the Tennessee woman and remarked it was such a pity moonlight schools had not been established in other States, Kentucky, for instance."

"That was a little more than I could stand," Mrs. Adams said. "I told them that moonlight schools were originated in Kentucky, in Rowan county. Some of the women said they thought Rowan county was a Tennessee. When I left that meeting I decided I would find out just what Kentucky's standard was before the nation was in educational matters. I found that in Eastern States, such as Boston and New York, the women were giving certificates to those who passed for adults and the poor whites of Kentucky. All the members were thundering from their pulpits the needs of the poor whites in Kentucky. To every college speaker was going, taking up collections for educating the poor whites of Kentucky."

"That made me indignant," I said to myself. "Why should our Kentucky whites be ignorant in the East? Aren't our hands just as alert?" But I told these women there was no difference anywhere, between the poor, illiterate whites of Kentucky and those of New York or the poor whites of Kentucky had never been given a chance, while the poor whites of New York had their chance and wouldn't take it."

"Then I came home and found out that Mrs. Stewart, moonlight schools were being held in models, and that in other States had followed Kentucky's example. But despite all the success attained, I found that Mrs. Stewart only had $50 with which to carry on the work. Then I joined the other women of Kentucky in saying we would help Mrs. Stewart, so that before the next census the people of New York would be saying, 'Come, Kentucky, and help New York educate her poor whites.' And that is why we have the Woman's Forward Kentucky Movement."

"Mrs. Adams said the unlettered people of the mountains had been illiterate, that the reason they could not read and write was because the State had never given them schools, and that they would be up pupils of the moonlight schools. "Farmers' Week" at the Kentucky State University

TO BE HELD AT THE EXPERIMENT STATION, LEXINGTON,
JANUARY 4 TO 9, 1915.

The attention of all farmers and stockmen is called to the "Farmers' Week" to be held at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, January 4th to 9th, 1915.

"Farmers' Week" consists of a series of exercises and exhibits of interest to farmers in the various branches of agriculture and includes the annual conventions of the Kentucky Dairy Cattle Club, Kentucky Beef Cattle Breeders' Association, State Horse Breeders' Association, Kentucky Swine Breeders' Association, State Sheep Breeders' Association, Kentucky State Poultry Association, Kentucky State Bee Keepers Association, State Horticultural Society, and the Kentucky Corn Growers Association. Each club or association has its own program, participated in by its members and also by the faculty of the agricultural college and by certain men from other states, of national or international reputation in their respective lines.

Competitive exhibits will be held in corn and various other grains, in dairy products, poultry, fruits, tobacco and in women's work. Very tempting premium lists have been provided and the exhibits compare favorably with the best in the country.

Of all the various agencies at work for the advancement of agriculture in Kentucky, the work of "Farmers' Week" is one of the most important. After attending one of these meetings, the open-minded, progressive farmer returns to his home greatly benefited by what he has seen and heard, he is refreshed and has a new enthusiasm for his work upon the home farm in which he clearly sees possibilities which before had seemed vague if they had been thought of at all.

At this great gathering one comes in friendly contact with the best and most progressive farmers and stockmen of the country.

Reduced rates have been granted by all the principal railroads in Kentucky.

"Farmers' Week" is the first of the ten weeks winter course in agriculture which course is especially designed to meet the needs of busy farmers who can devote only a limited amount of time to agricultural college work. Particulars regarding the individual association meetings and the competitive exhibits, premium lists, etc., may be obtained by addressing the Agricultural Experiment Station, Lexington, Ky.

LETCHER COUNTY AND WHITESBURG.

What is Happening in this Rich Coal Territory of Kentucky.

Whitesburg, Ky., Nov. 17.—It is announced here that a special term of the Letcher Circuit Court is to be held here in December when the greatly congested docket of civil and penal cases, coal and timber land litigation, damage suits, etc., will be disposed of. It is hoped that the docket can be cleared. Judge J. M. Robinson is determined to clear the docket at all odds. The special term would have been held in this month had it not been for the vote traffic probe in Pike county, which is going to consume most of the present month.

Whitesburg is undergoing many splendid changes for its betterment lately. Just now a vast amount of street improvement, street grading, laying down of concrete sidewalks, etc., is going on; while some of the most pretentious business blocks in the mountains are now complete. These include the pretty First National Bank building, which cost nearly $45,000 to complete. This is said to be by far the best building this side of Whitesburg. There is also the D. D. Fields and the Ira Fields buildings, all on Main street, and they would do justice to a city of 15,000. J. H. Frazier is building a fine store building, also, on Main street. All this is in keeping with the push and progress that really belongs to Whitesburg, destined to become the best town in the mountains.

Advices from Los Angeles, Cal., bring the sad intelligence to relatives here of the death of little Robert Webb, Jr., aged 12, of diphtheria, after two days illness. He was a nephew of N. M. Webb, postmaster here, and W. B. Webb, manager of the Mountain Eagle, and his death caused much sorrow. The remains were sent to Monticure, Mo., his former home, for interment.

News by telephone from Mader says J. M. Webb, formerly of Mayking, was thrown from a horse late yesterday afternoon and seriously, if not fatally, wounded. He was riding home back toward Fleming when the accident occurred.

"Aunt Betty Ann" Webb, aged about 80, of Mayking, still lies dangerously low and her many relatives and friends are at her bedside. Aunt Betty fell several months ago and broke her arm to pieces, otherwise severely injuring her. She is not expected to live many days more.

E. M. Webb and Lydia Webb arrived from Portland, Tenn., to be with their mother, Aunt Betty Ann Webb, at Mayking.

The annual inspection of the Letcher County Company National Guard was held here Saturday and Monday, the inspection having been made by Sergeant Ulmington of the regular army. All the boys were on hand and made a good showing.

While at work in the Mountain Eagle office here Saturday W. B. Webb received some painful injuries, which will disable him for several days. He got three fingers caught in a job press and considerably bruised up.

"Truly a Forward Movement"

Under this caption the Courier-Journal says in its columns:

"The time will come when the name of Mrs. Clara Wilson Stewart, originator of the moonlight school, will be greater in Kentucky, and nationally, than the names of a score of self-seeking 'statesmen' who cater for votes and aim at office by making sky-scraping flights of oratory about the grandeur of the State and the excellence of the people. The women who are to secure the funds to give vitality to Mrs. Stewart's educational plan in every county in the State have undertaken a task which must succeed. They are asking for donations which will be more profitable to the donors than any other use of similar sums could be. The response to their solicitation should be sufficiently prompt and cordial to advertise far and wide the willingness of the enlightened and well-to-do citizens of Kentucky to tolerate the expositions which have injured the State, no less in purse than in reputation, for generations when many other States, with no richer resources, have forged ahead of Kentucky."

A prompt, complete response to the Women's Forward Movement will be worth more to Kentucky, immediately, as advertising, than the sum for which a request is made. Failure to respond would damage the State far more than a dozen times the sum requested. By the manner in which the request is met, the better section is awake or asleep, progressive or unprogressive, educated and enlightened or merely able to read or write, liberal or miserably, far-sighted or short-sighted, willing to give money to make dollars or determined to save dollars even at a loss in dollars.

"Surely the answer will be for progress. Help to make it a ringing one."

ECHO, W. VA.

The election is over and everybody seems quiet and getting down to business.

The Circuit Court is in session and also the County Court, making a record of the ballots for S. J. Crum and R. E. Boston for County Clerk.

Henderson Huff, on R. D. No. 1, has treated Isaac Lester for four cancers, and the places are healing rapidly.

W. T. Workman and E. P. Lester have just returned from Wheeling, where the Masonic Grand Lodge and Grand Chapter held its annual meeting for 1914. W. T. Workman was elected M. E. Grand High Priest of the Grand Chapter.

PIKE COUNTY NEWS

COURT AND JURY ADJOURN.

An s-weeks session of the Circuit Court and grand jury closed with adjournment last Saturday at noon.

This was perhaps the most remarkable term of court ever held in Pike county. Several special investigations were carried on by the jury, and in the probe into charges of election bribery more than 1100 indictments were made.

This is the beginning of the courts of justice to look up a long-standing practice of political corruption practiced by all parties indiscriminately in this county for years. The next step will be the presentation of these charges which are expected to come before a special term of the court in December.

A number of local officials were reported to the jury as having accepted railway passes, but prosecuting attorney Monroe Fields declined to draw the indictments made by the jury, on the grounds that the jury, on the whole, and not indicted, is the proper method of prosecuting these misdoings.

As the equity docket was not tried at this term of the court, it is expected that the court will reconvene at the close of this month to take up the trial of the equity cases, which will require about two weeks.

DIED IN SLEEP.

John Coleman, 24, single, who had been employed on the farm of relatives, near Marysboro, was found dead in his bed last Friday morning.

An inquiry into the cause of his death revealed no cause, but as he had been frequently subjected to attacks of heart failure during his life, it was supposed that this was the direct cause of his sudden death. He died at the home of Jack Coleman.

BRIDGE BURNED.

The C. & O. bridge which spans Marrowbone creek just above the Marrowbone station, caught fire from an unknown cause last Monday night, and was greatly damaged before the blaze was discovered. It was saved, however, in time to prevent such damage as would stop traffic.

It is thought that the fire started from live coals dropped from a passing locomotive the evening before.

DR. STEPHENSON MOVING.

Dr. J. W. Stephenson and family, who have for several weeks been at the Eliza Steele residence, 2500 South Main street, will move to the L. J. Williamson property on Main street. He will also move his office from the First National Bank building to his new home, his professional associate, Dr. S. H. Chesdell, having moved to C. C. C. just below Paintsville.

LOSES FOOT IN CRUISER.

Harry Overstreet, an employee of the C. & O. on bridge construction at Elkhorn City, fell into a rock transfer last Monday afternoon and was badly injured. He was taken to the Elkhorn hospital, where it was found necessary to amputate the left foot. This brother, James Overstreet, and sister, Mrs. W. M. Bowling, both of Pikeville, were notified by the hospital that the mangled foot would not be removed until they could reach Elkhorn City.

For his bedside Tuesday morning, and shortly after that arrived at the news, Harry Overstreet, who is very well, and shortly afterward was resting easily.

Overstreet has twice been injured by accident since he has been working at Elkhorn City. The first time he was badly injured when a horse ran into him and was so badly injured that he was taken to the hospital. He was not expected to live.
